Two roads diverged in a yellow wood,
And sorry I could not travel both
And be one traveler, long I stood
And looked down one as far as I could
To where it bent in the undergrowth;

Then took the other, as just as fair,
And having perhaps the better claim
Because it was grassy and wanted wear,
Though as for that the passing there
Had worn them really about the same,

And both that morning equally lay
In leaves no step had trodden black.
Oh, I kept the first for another day!
Yet knowing how way leads on to way
I doubted if I should ever come back.

I shall be telling this with a sigh
Somewhere ages and ages hence:
Two roads diverged in a wood, and I,
I took the one less traveled by,
And that has made all the difference.
Robert Frost

We love you very much, Sergio! Son, now that you are graduating, we realize that you are no longer a child. We remember the first day we took you to Pre-K. Now, thirteen years have gone by, and we are so PROUD of you! You are a wonderful son and a good student. We know how much effort you put into competing in all sports. When we watch you play, we are proud to call you OUR SON! We wish you the best in your quest to be a better human being. Do not forget to respect others so you will be respected in return. God bless you and protect you always.

We love you
Your parents,
Jose and Maria Plata

From the minute you were born there was something special about you, and as you grew, you brought that special something to everyone you touched. Creating many memories, lots of pride, and bringing so much love. Its wonderful to see the young man that you've become today. You know how much you are loved. Keep those bright blue eyes shining and that head held high your future is very bright.

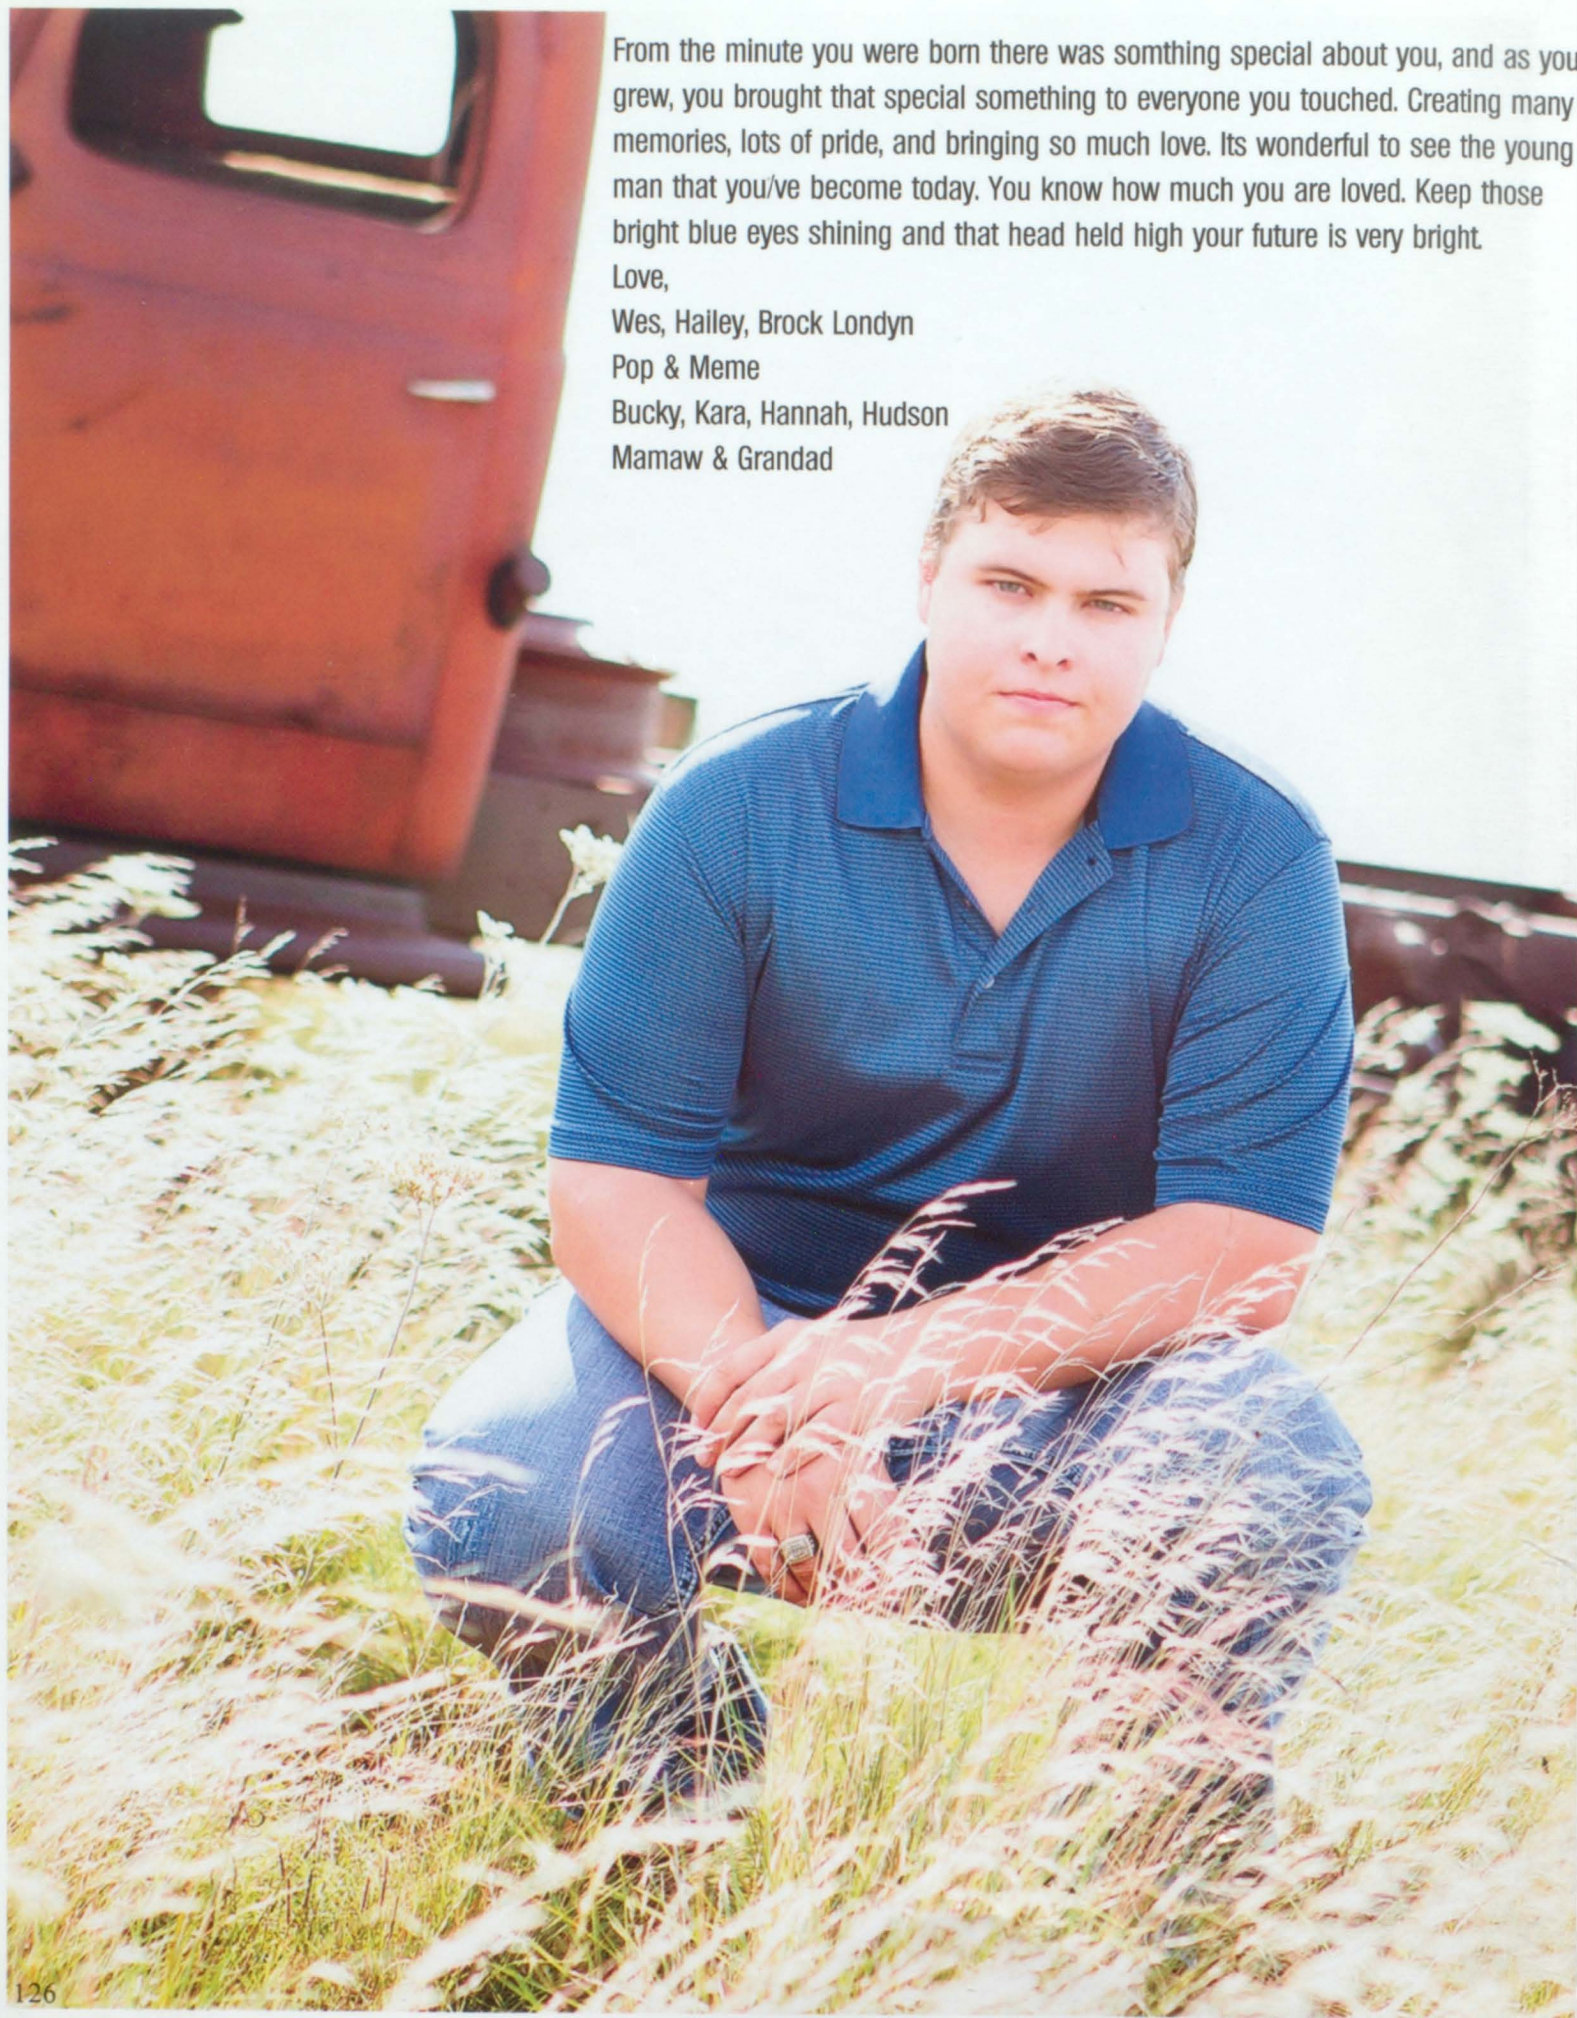

Love,

Wes, Hailey, Brock Londyn

I closed my eyes for a moment and suddenly a man stood where a boy used to be. I may not carry you now in my arms but I will always carry you in my heart. You have given me so many reasons to be proud of the man you have become, but the proudest moment is telling others your my son. I love you now and forever. Congrats on all your accomplishments this year!

Love,
Mamma

Liz,

You're the last of our clan to graduate and we can't begin to tell you how proud we are of you. From the day you were born God knew you were the perfect fit to complete our family. Although you may be the last you are definitely not the least. You had the advantage of having six before you teach you lessons and help you grow into the beautiful young lady that you are. You are an amazing daughter, sister and aunt and we will pray that God's wisdom and guidance leads you to your full potential and know that you have a family that will always stand by you! Congratulations on your graduation and wishing you the best of luck in the beginning of your new chapter in life.

Love always,

The whole clan (we won't fit if we name us all!)
