

SANDS CISD has an open position for Director of Instructional Technology. The job description is below.

Direct and manage the district's instructional technology program. An emphasis will be placed on those who understand educational technology installation and integration in all District-wide applications. Sands CISD will be opening a new school in two years and this position will be heavily involved in technology decision-making for the new building. This individual will also develop and implement district wide technology-based staff development and training programs to facilitate the effective use of technology tools in instructional programs. The position will contribute to the development of initiatives of integration of technology into the instructional program. Knowledge of instructional software applications and technologies available for use in instructional setting are important. Strong organizational, communication, and interpersonal skills are a necessity. Sands CISD is a team oriented institution that strives to create strong values of successful work ethic, integrity, and determination in our students. We want to add staff that share this vision.

The District will provide a competitive salary that is negotiable based on experience.

Low rent housing near the school is available.

Please email resumes to Lenny Morrow (principal). lmorrow@esc17.net

You may also call at 432-353-4888 for additional questions and feedback on the position.